Suit filed to stop deer hunt at NSTL

By DENA BISNETTE
Fund For Animals, Inc. and Cynthia R. Hatten of Harrison County have filed a lawsuit to try to stop deer hunting on the grounds of the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant.

The deer hunts, which are limited to archery hunters only, have been approved by the U.S. Army for about 7,000 acres of land leased from NASA's National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County and are scheduled to begin Saturday.

The army approved the hunts after a study of the deer population allegedly revealed that there were too many deer for the area to support.

The suit was filed Tuesday in United States District Court and requests an injunction to stop the hunting. It names as defendants the United States of America, President Ronald Reagan, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger, Secretary of the Army John Marsh, Assistant Secretary of the Army Patrick Hillier, Army Chief of Engineers Lt. Gen. Joseph K. Bratton and Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant Commanding Officer Lt. Col. R.W. Bregard.

The suit alleges that hunting should not be allowed because, when the army originally leased the area in the early 1960s, the county was promised through the board of supervisors the land would be a game preserve.

It is also alleged that the deer have become tame through exposure to humans, that the environmental quality of the area would be degraded if it is used for hunting and that several endangered and threatened species living in the area would be affected.

The accompanying request for a preliminary restraining order to stop the hunt until the suit can be heard includes a list of endangered and threatened species living in the area.

Most of the species listed are birds and include the bald eagle, the peregrin falcon, the wood stork and Bewick's wren. The other species listed is the American alligator.

A preliminary hearing on the matter was held Wednesday in the chambers of Judge Walter L. Nixon, according to Aaron Adams, the Waveland attorney representing the plaintiffs.

Supervisors endorse new jail bond issue proposal

By DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has formally endorsed a $2.5 million jail bond issue that will appear on the November ballot.

The board made the endorsement by unanimous vote Monday after being advised by Terrence Feeney, who represents the county's 30-member jail committee.

Members of the jail committee attending the meeting to support Feeney's request included Fred Wagner, whose architectural firm designed the new jail.

Also included were members of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, the Citizen's Advisory Committee, the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, the Waveland Board of Aldermen, the Waveland Police Department and other groups.

Some of those representing the chamber and other groups are also members of the jail committee which was formed last year as a result of a grand jury recommendation.

Feeney requested that the supervisors work to have the jail bond issue passed on an individual basis in addition to working as a board.

"I don't know of a single board member who didn't support it last time and isn't supporting it this time," said Roger Dale Ladner, Beat Three supervisor.

Feeney said a new jail is needed for numerous reasons, including overcrowding in the present jail and lack of space for both prisoners and sheriff's office personnel.

According to information distributed by bond issue supporters who attended the meeting, the 47-year-old structure was built to house 11 prisoners but now houses about 50.

About 10 suits have been filed against the county by former prisoners complaining of the overcrowded conditions.

In addition, Sheriff Ronald Peterson has stated on several occasions that he is forced to release people who have been arrested because the jail has no room for more prisoners.

The bond issue deals only with replacing the jail and does not specify whether the new jail will be built on the site of the present jail or on other county property nearby.

A previous bond issue for a new jail was defeated by less than one percent of the county's voters.

Bay Council votes to endorse new jail

By DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis City Council has endorsed a 2.5 million bond issue for a new jail.

The council made the endorsement Tuesday after hearing a brief statement from Mary Perkins, publicity co-chairman for the Jail Committee.

The bond issue will appear on the November ballot and concerns the replacement of the county's 47-year-old jail with a new building capable of housing more prisoners.

The present jail was built to hold about 15 prisoners but now holds about 50.

The council also heard from Norton Haas, who proposed an ordinance restricting the construction or expansion of any non-commercial buildings, particularly those extending over the water, along Beach Boulevard.

Haas told the council that part of his proposed ordinance is directed to condominiums and other high-rise structures that might prove unsafe during hurricanes.

He asked that the ordinance be adopted and allowed to remain effective until the city has completed a comprehensive study of its zoning and building codes.

The study would emphasize the effect of condominiums and time-sharing properties on the city, hurricane danger to structures along the beach and the placing of limitations on building height and size with regard to available utilities and fire protection.

In other business, the council voted to obtain a proposal from Broadway Engineers on the plans and engineering needed to correct a drainage problem on Ulman Avenue.

The meeting was recessed until 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

Waveland board endorses bond issue

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Waveland Mayor John Longo Jr. and members of the city's Board of Aldermen added their names to the Hancock County Jail Committee's list of endorsers.

The citizens committee named by the county supervisors is working to generate support for a proposed $2.5 million bond issue to fund a new county jail.

The proposal will appear on the Nov. 6 General Election ballot.

Speaking for the jail committee, Victor Frankiewicz told the board that it would be well worth their time to visit the jail so they could view first-hand the conditions calling for a new jail.

The jail was designed for 15 prisoners, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said, but as many as 51 have been kept there at one time.

Frankiewicz said the space for prisoners is not only physically inadequate, but inhumane.

Currently the jail is not even meeting minimal federal requirements and is not safe, he said.

"Not even animals should be kept like that," Frankiewicz said, "Not all of the prisoners are rapists or murderers and many are not even criminals."

Following his presentation, the mayor and board members questioned Frankiewicz and Peterson about the long term results of the proposed size and location of the jail.

Board members said they were not against the project, but wanted to be certain that the new jail would not be obsolete before the bond matures.

Peterson assured the board that the new jail would be able to accommodate the projected number of prisoners for the next 20 years.

Frankiewicz added that the new jail will have the capacity for 75 prisoners with several cells that can be adjusted to safely hold additional prisoners.

Assured that the project was feasible, the board endorsed the bond issue and

Loretta Lynn to play World's Fair

Loretta Lynn, the undisputed "First Lady of Country Music," will bring her down-home, legendary style to the New Orleans World's Fair, Sunday, Oct. 14 at 8 p.m.

Lynn, whose life story was documented first in her book, "Coal Miner's Daughter," and later in the critically acclaimed movie of that same title, is busier than ever.

Her latest album, "Lynn, Cheatin' Woman Chasin' Honky Tonkin', Whiskey Drinkin' You," and the single by the same title, is in great demand nationally, and her 1983 top ten hit, "I Lie," is still playing strong.

Loretta will sandwich her fair amphitheatre appearance in between an appearance on a Country Music Association televised tribute to the late Ernest Tubbs, Oct. 8; the Tonight Show, Oct. 17; and Harris-Lake Tahoe, Oct. 19-25.

She can also be seen on "CBS Morning News," Oct. 8; "Good Morning America," Nov. 1; and on "Sesame Street" in early November.

Tickets are available through all Ticketmaster locations, or may be obtained by writing: The Liggett & Myers Quality Seal Amphitheatre, Louisiana World Exposition, P.O. Box 61238, New Orleans, La. 70158.

Coast Electric executive elected to national board

Henry Thomas, general manager of Coast Electric Power Association since 1973, has been elected to serve as a director on the board of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

NRECA is the national service organization of more than 900 rural electric systems throughout the United States, and has been the driving force behind exporting rural electrification overseas to developing countries.

Thomas is known nationally as being an outspoken advocate of rural electrification and the development of rural America.

For the past nine years he has represented the states of Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama and Kentucky on the National Resolutions Committee of NRECA, serving as its secretary.

He is past president of the Electric Power Associations of Mississippi and a director since 1973; presently serves as a director of South Mississippi Electric Power Association.

Thomas is a past director of Boy Scouts of America, past president of Gulf Coast Athletic Association, Harrison County Teachers Association, Orange Grove Civitan Club, and holds memberships and actively participates in numerous other clubs and organizations.

In 1982 Thomas was selected as a member of the first rural electric delegation to journey to the Peoples Republic of China and work with the Chinese rural electric leaders in the promotion of rural electrification for that country.

He is married to the former Carolyn Smith of Poplarville and they reside with their three children in Gulfport.

CORRECTIONS

A report in Sunday's Sea Coast Echo on availability of flu shots at Hancock County Health Department inadvertently listed Monday through Friday as days to receive shots.

The Health Department reports the flu shots will be available only on Mondays and Thursdays from 8 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Supply is limited and the shots will be offered on a first come-first served basis; preferably to senior citizens and the chronically ill, a department spokesman said.

THE MORMONS

Waveland Branch

Church of Jesus Christ

of Latter Day Saints

Members from the six wards comprising the Gulfport Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will meet together this weekend to view satellite telecasts of the church's semi-annual General Conference.

The telecasts, which will originate from the tabernacle on Temple Square in Salt Lake City, Utah will be seen by members and non-members alike at the church's chapel, 870 Forrest Ave., Biloxi.

The schedule for the telecasts includes:

—Saturday, Oct. 6, 11 a.m.-1 p.m.; 3-5 p.m.; and 7-9 p.m. (General Priesthood Session);

—Sunday, Oct. 7, 10:30 a.m.-1 p.m. and 3-5 p.m.

All interested persons, regardless of religious affiliation, are invited to join church members for the telecasts.

All regularly scheduled ward meetings, have been cancelled for Saturday and Sunday.

WOMEN'S MEETING

"We want our sisters of all ages to know that as they work together, they can find unity in the gospel," said Primary General President Dwan J. Young in discussing the theme of this year's General Women's Meeting.

Women of the Gulfport Stake of the church 10 years of age and over and their invited guests gathered Saturday, Sept. 29 at the Biloxi chapel to view the meeting which was telecast via satellite to more than 850 such gatherings throughout the United States and Canada.

The meeting, which convened in the tabernacle on Temple Square in Salt Lake City, Utah followed the theme of "Striving Together." This theme was taken from the New Testament scripture found in Philippians 1:27.

President Gordon B. Hinckley of the first presidency and Elder Dean L. Larsen of the presidency of the first quorum of the seventy addressed the women following this theme.

Young also discussed children's experiences in the gospel and how they can follow the teachings of the Savior and comfort those who need comfort.

Young Women General President Ardethe G. Kapp spoke about how youth can be a powerful influence in their own homes by strengthening their families.

Relief Society General President Barbara W. Winder spoke about the great influence women can have by translating their beliefs into service to others.

Music for the meeting was provided by a choir composed of Primary, Young Women and Relief Society members from several stakes in the Salt Lake Valley area.

Locally, women from the area from Picayune to Ocean Springs met at the Biloxi chapel for a reception one hour prior to this instructional and inspirational telecast.

SHAPING UP

By J. E. LOIACANO
You get an extra plus from exercise. Even after you stop, your metabolism remains high for a while, and you'll burn extra calories—even doing nothing—for hours afterward.

A fast-paced walk, a mile in 15 minutes, is still a super exercise.

The ANYWHERE exercise: press the small of your back against the back of a chair, the seat of your car, even against the wall. That pelvic tilt protects and strengthens your back.

Mini-trampoline is particularly good for older people whose joints are not up to jogging or running on hard pavement. Force of the foot on a mini-trampoline is only one-sixth what it would be on the ground.

What is your resting pulse rate? An athlete in good condition can return to the resting pulse rate within minutes after exercise.

Krewe of Real People festival this weekend

The Krewe of Real People is again sponsoring the annual "Fall Festival" to be held at Booker St. Park Oct. 6 and 7.

The festival will feature food and craft booths, demonstrations by local craftspeople and two days of continuous entertainment.

Saturday, Oct. 6, the children of the community can participate in a field day. There will be contests for all age groups and prizes for all participants. The entertainment will kick off at 1 p.m. on both days and run into the evening hours.

Entertainment this year will be diverse. Saturday and Sunday Mr. Fred Cook of Pass Christian will be featured as solo vocalist and guitarist.

There will be a gospel hour on Saturday, featuring area churches and solo performers. Sunday afternoon Bo and Dee of Bay St. Louis will take center stage at 4 p.m.

Special attraction will be Mr. Al "Luv" Jenkins of Gulfport who will stage a dance contest, complete with cash prizes to the winners.

"This proves to be a fun-filled two-day event with something for everyone, booths, crafts, food, drink, entertainment, video games, dance contests with cash prizes, and it's all for a great cause," said a spokesman for the 1985 Krewe of Real People Mardi Gras Parade.

Quotables by Cuevas

I just closed the window after throwing out the season high school football records for St. Stanislaus and Bay High's Friday night game.

Rock-A-Chaw Stadium should be overflowing with both Stanislaus and Tiger fans, as this could be the game of the year for both teams.

The game between Bay High and St. Stanislaus has in recent years been very exciting, and 1984's should not be an exception.

The Tigers fresh from victory number one of the season last week will be trying to keep the momentum going. Stanislaus on the other hand will be trying to regroup after losing their first of the season last week.

We know both Rock coach Vernon Powell and Tiger mentor Cleveland Williams will have their respective teams ready to play.

In a very close game, fan support can give a team that little extra 'want to win' attitude that will bring a victory.

So we will be looking for all of the Tiger and Rock-A-Chaw fans Friday night.

Hancock North Central's Hawks will journey to East Central for action Friday.

The Hawks, like Bay High have had their share of injuries to key players and this has been added to a rebuilding year.

Head coach Irvin Favre should have his Hawks ready to play Friday and could with some good fan support bring a victory home.

The game of once-beatens will be when Pass Christian plays host to Stone County.

Alton Wright's Pirates have been getting their play together in recent weeks after an opening loss to a very strong d'Iberville.

Stone County always a leader in the Deep South Conference only lost to George County.

The Pirates will have to play a flawless game in order to defeat the Tomcats.

Remember, Kick-offs are at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday will be the final day for Hancock County residents to register in order to vote in the November 6 General Election.

This is for persons who are not registered in Hancock County.

Circuit Clerk John Rutherford reports his office will be open until 5 p.m. Saturday. The new one-step registration is now in effect and all a person has to do is either register at the county courthouse or respective city of registry.

Every citizen from the age of 18 should be registered to vote, we can remember many local elections being decided on only one vote.

The 10th Annual Gumbo Festival is scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday at White Cypress.

The event will be held at the festival grounds on Hwy. 603 near Necaise Crossing.

Directions for new residents—go north on Hwy. 603 through Kiln, continue past Hancock North Central High School, and it will be a few miles further north on the left of the highway.

There will be gumbo cooking contests, beauty pageants, craft booths, and many top flight country and western bands to entertain the fans.

We hope to see you at the Gumbo Festival.

CHECK JAIL CONDITIONS—Making a tour of the Hancock County Jail on Tuesday were from left, Clarice Gustin, co-chairman of the jail publicity committee; Sheriff Ronald Peterson, and Circuit Court Judge J. Ruble Griffin who is talking to an inmate. This week the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, Bay St. Louis Mayor and Councilmen, and Waveland Mayor and Aldermen all endorsed a bond issue for a new jail. Endorsements were also given by the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, and community businessmen. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

News From The Governor's Office

Gov. Bill Allain

By Executive Order last week, we created a private sector council that I believe can become one of the most productive groups in state government.

The "Private Sector Action Council" is the conclusion of months of research on the best methods of studying the taxes and programs of state government. The Council will be privately funded and will spend its time reviewing the myriad of state tax laws and determining the spending priorities for state government for years to come.

Thirty-two Mississippians, who have established outstanding reputations in the private sector, have agreed to serve without pay on this Council. They are donating to the state countless hours of their time, as well as years of professional experience. I believe the end result of their deliberations will provide a blueprint for state government for a long time.

Specifically, the Council will undertake a comprehensive study and evaluation of the entire tax structure of the state of Mississippi, including, but not limited to, sales taxes, income taxes, privilege taxes, fuel taxes, use taxes, excise taxes, severance taxes, franchise taxes, alcoholic beverage, wine, and beer taxes, estate taxes and premium taxes.

In addition, the Council will conduct an ongoing review, analysis and evaluation of state programs of expenditures, their objectives, priorities, levels and benefits to the economic development of the state and its citizens.

Our ultimate goal with the establishment of this Council is to find taxation methods that are fair, equitable and just for our citizens while insuring that we get the maximum spending worth out of every tax dollar that you pay.

We also hope that the Council will make recommendations for streamlining some of our procedures relating to state taxes, again to better serve you, the taxpayers.

Every state agency and department has been requested to cooperate with the Council by providing it with information regarding functions and operations of the agencies.

The Council will establish a close working relationship with the State Treasurer, Chairman of the State Tax Commission, State Fiscal Officer, Director of the Research and Development Center and Tax Study Committees of the State Senate and State House of Representatives.

At the conclusion of the deliberations of the Council, the State of Mississippi will have a working plan for state government—our biggest business.

Governor Bill Allain said recently that refusal by President Reagan to meet with him on the nuclear waste issue will not deter his efforts to exact an absolute veto promise from the federal government.

"I am very disappointed that the President does not realize the importance of this issue for the people of Mississippi.

His supporters in Mississippi said he will be discussing matters of 'state and local impact' during today's visit, but we believe there is no more important issue—especially in Southern Mississippi—than granting us the absolute veto power over storage of nuclear waste within our borders," Governor Allain said.

The Governor said he received a telegram early Monday denying his request to meet with the President on the nuclear waste issue.

Frederick J. Ryan Jr., director of presidential appointments and scheduling, wrote the governor, saying, "...the President's schedule during his time in your state is such that we will be unable to arrange for a meeting. However, we have forwarded your concerns to the appropriate office for review."

"Obviously, I am very disappointed," Governor Allain said. "I am disappointed for the people of Mississippi. The last two times we requested such a meeting with the President, we were told that his schedule would not permit it. This time, we thought we had given enough advance time. We requested our meeting before the final details of his trip were completed.

"Since he is staying overnight in Mississippi, we thought he could manage a few minutes to discuss such a serious issue with the state's chief executive. Apparently, he felt that campaigning was more important than hearing of the concerns of the people of Mississippi or discussing them with our local press.

"President Reagan's reluctance to talk about nuclear waste in Mississippi will not keep us from continuing to request a meeting with him to plead for the absolute veto over nuclear waste disposal that he gave to Louisiana. I hope we will eventually be successful in our efforts, for the sake of all Mississippians," Governor Allain said.

IN CONGRESS By Cong. Trent Lott

The Continuing Resolution
By the time the 98th Congress finally adjourns, you're going to have heard a lot from Washington regarding the so-called "continuing resolution."

Enactment of this bill is needed by Oct. 1 to ensure fiscal 1985 funding for a number of federal agencies and programs because the Congress has passed only four of the 13 appropriations bills necessary to keep the government operating.

It is not unusual for Members of Congress to attempt to attach pet projects to the continuing resolution, but this measure this year is being referred to as "the last train leaving town." The door has been opened for what would be authorization add-ons of unprecedented scope.

There are funds in the continuing resolution for foreign aid and defense, and we added the President's anti-crime package which has previously passed the Senate. Included in the authorization of spending add-ons is an $18 billion omnibus water projects bill which has already cleared the House and which happens to contain funding for dredging the Gulfport Harbor.

It is unusual for water projects to be added on to the continuing resolution, and I do not know if they will make it through the complicated process of Senate, conference and Presidential consideration.

I do know that this year marks the fourth time that the House has authorized the dredging of the Gulfport Harbor, a project vital to the Port of Gulfport's economic growth.

The Administration has served notice that President Reagan will veto a continuing resolution which is encumbered by costly new programs. Such a chain of events would complicate Congressional efforts to meet the Oct. 1 deadline for the new fiscal year.

President Reagan vetoed a continuing resolution in November 1981 under similar circumstances, provoking a partial government shutdown until the White House and Congress resolved differences.

All of these actions would defeat the specific purpose of the continuing resolution which is to provide stopgap funding until the Congress can complete action on the 13 appropriations bills required to keep the federal government in operation.

The inclusion in the continuing resolution of the President's anti-crime package is another complicating factor. This measure, which amounts to little, if any, new spending, was considered for inclusion in the continuing resolution due to the obstructionist, liberal leadership in the House, who would not allow it to come up for a vote under normal procedures.

All of us in the House of Representatives tend to get involved in the hurry-up process of taking care of unfinished business by including it in the continuing resolution. Some have good reasons for action; others do not.

But the fact remains that none of us should use the continuing resolution as a vehicle for anything other than its intended purpose.

There is an orderly process for considering the budget, the authorizations of programs and the appropriations of spending for these programs. The Congress should follow it.

ANGELIC ADVICE—Angel Lucia Bustebrizzio, played by Lady Carver, holds a conference with her still-alive husband Salvatore Bustebrizzio, played by Randolph Bourgeois, in a scene from the Bay St. Louis Little Theater-Krewe of Triton

CAC Campaign underway

JIM ROBERTS, WLOX-TV

The NASA National Space Technology Laboratories kicked off its annual Combined Agencies Campaign (CAC) at 11 a.m. Tuesday in the Visitors Center auditorium.

This year's goal has been set at $106,600. Last year NSTL employees donated more than $110,000 to the campaign.

Jim Roberts, WLOX-TV anchorman, served as master of ceremonies.

Musical entertainment was provided by the NSTL Concert Choir and a film starring Kevin Dobson entitled "Love Is the Answer" was shown.

The CAC is a combined effort by the installation's federal agencies and industrial contractors.

Federal employee contribute to the Combined Federal Campaign and contractors donate directly to the area United Way organizations or specific charities of their choice.

In making their contributions, employees are encouraged to designate specific agencies and locations they wish to receive their gifts.

Serving as CAC drive chairman is Capt. L.J. Pingel, commander, Naval Oceanography Command (CNO).

Assisting Pingel are Bob Gorham of Pan Am World Services, vice chairman of the industrial division; Joe Frosto, CNO, vice chairman for the federal division; and Elva Smith, Pan Am World Services, publicity.

Funds collected through the CAC are distributed to United Way organizations of Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River counties in Mississippi, the Greater New Orleans Area including St. Tammany Parish in Louisiana, and to National Health and International Service Agencies.

"Angel" cast presents funny opening night show

By DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis-Krewe of Triton production of "Never Get Smart with an Angel," opened Friday with a funny performance that got a good reception from its audience.

The play, which has been presented in Bay St. Louis before, is a comedy dealing with the story of a young doctor of Italian descent who marries a non-Italian girl, but it dwells mostly on their bigoted fathers.

The Italian father, Salvatore Bustebrizzio, is played as a fiery, emotional character by Randolph Bourgeois.

Bourgeois and Charles Carter, who plays Bustebrizzio's friend Carmine Sustenutto, manage to say their lines with heavy Italian accents without becoming difficult to understand.

Lady Carver, who plays the angel

Lucia Bustebrizzio, joins them in using body language and acid voice tones to emphasize emotional extremes as she becomes angry at her live husband and walks out on him.

Providing contrast is Edgar Perez, who plays the girl's father John Boothe. He restrains his use of gestures and keeps his voice level even as he insults Bustebrizzio until his daughter elopes with Bustebrizzio's son and he is permanently linked to a man he dislikes.

The three men turn in performances that take attention away from the remaining two actors, Tim Bourgeois as Paolo Bustebrizzio and Lynn Stechmann as Dorothy Boothe Bustebrizzio.

Bourgeois and Stechmann play their parts adequately, but except for isolated scenes on opening night had difficulty competing with Randolph

Bourgeois and Carter.

Early scenes in the opening night production dragged somewhat for a play that has such emotional characters as the elder Bustebrizzio and Sustenutto, but the pace picked up after the intermission.

The set, lighting and costumes are attractive and as uncomplicated as the comedy in the play. The lighting in the final scene deserves special mention because it enhances the performance of Randolph Bourgeois.

Mike Hamm served as producer-director and Mary Carter was guest director.

"Never Get Smart with an Angel" continues Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Bay St. Louis Little Theater on Boardman Avenue. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. each night.

Meet United Way leaders

GERALDINE LANG

Hubbard chairman-elect of the campaign now underway.

Geraldine Lang was born in Amite, La., studied in Louisiana public schools, and took a GED certificate at Pearl River Junior College's Hancock County Vo-Tech Center.

Lang was 1983 Mother of the Year for the NAACP, is president of St. Rose Parish Council, president of the Hancock County Concerned Citizens Organization, co-chairman of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee and a director for the Community Action Agency.

She is a member of the Hancock County Jail Committee, Hancock County Welfare Council, Home Economics Council, Chairman of the Citizen Advisory Committee for the City of Bay St. Louis and membership chairman for the Red Cross.

She is a member of the Mississippi Professional Women Volunteer Leadership Association, and received a Distinguished Volunteer Service Award from Gov. William Winter in 1983 for her efforts on behalf of educational reform and establishment of public kindergartens in Mississippi.

She received a Bishop's Service Cross Award for faithfully following the Lord's injunction to serve others' this summer from Bishop Joseph Lawson Howze of the Biloxi Diocese.

The Bishop's Cross was the first award of its type to be presented in the Diocese.

EDITORS NOTE: This is part of a series of articles about the officers and directors of the United Way of Hancock County.

A goal of $45,000 has been set for the 1984 campaign in Hancock County.

Hilda Bourg is chairman and Bob

She was named 'Citizen of The Year' by Iota Epsilon Chapter of Omega Psi Phi, national service fraternity.

Ms. Lang received the first Ethel Weaver Memorial Citizenship Award from the Hancock County Chapter-NAACP in 1983.

She joined the Hancock County United Way board of directors this year.

Ms. Lang is married and the mother of three children.

Little Theatre auditions announced

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre reports tryouts for its final production of the season, "Ladies at the Alamo," will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

A play in two acts by Paul Zindel, "Ladies" will be produced by Donna Ralph Tingstrom and directed by Laurie Kiefer Byrd.

The play is scheduled for presentation in late November.

Needed are four women between the ages of 25 and 40-years of age. Tryouts will be at the theatre's playhouse on Boardman Avenue.

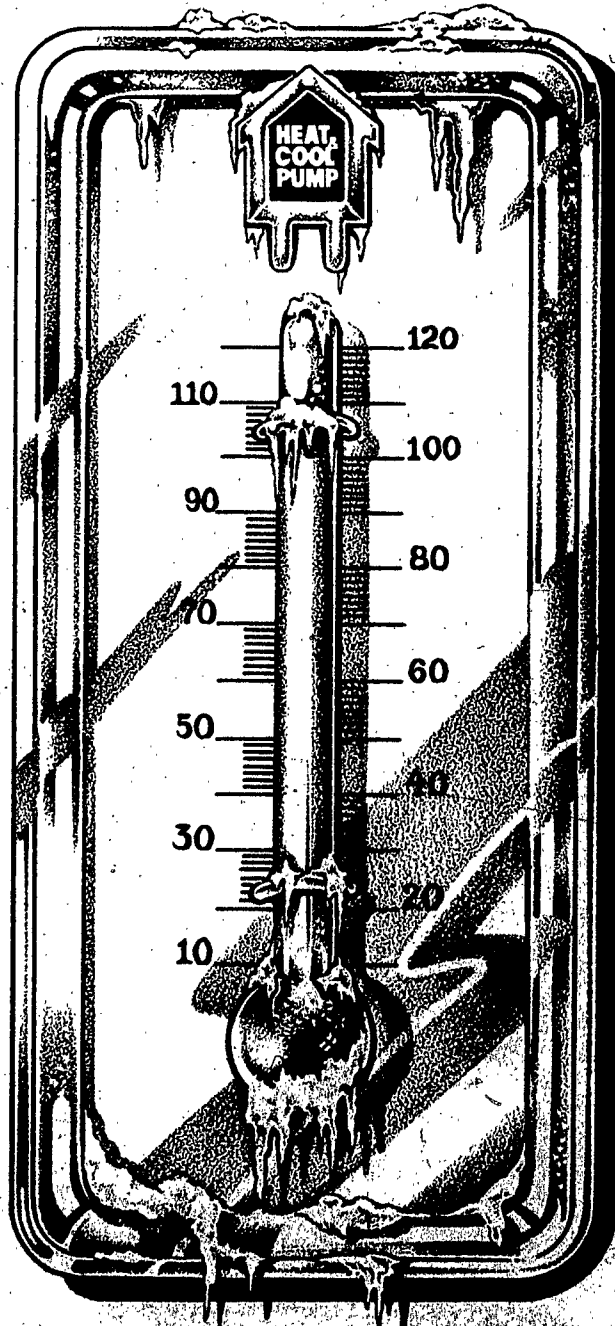

Anyone interested in working on the production is also invited to attend these tryouts.

Sen. Taylor among opponents of 'profiteering' amendment

Launching a campaign to defeat a proposed constitutional amendment, Common Cause/Mississippi released a four-page tabloid publication on Sunday.

The amendment to the state Constitution, tabbed "the profiteering amendment" by the nonpartisan citizens' lobbying organization, will appear on the ballot on Nov. 6.

Eight political figures are quoted in support of the Common Cause position against the amendment, including Attorney General Edwin L. Pittman and State Treasurer Bill Cole.

Others who issued statements against the amendment are Gerald Blessey, mayor of Biloxi; Bennie Thompson, Hinds County supervisors; state senators Gene Taylor and Cy Hart Rosenblatt; and state representatives Frances Savage and J. Dewayne Thomas.

Taylor is from Bay St. Louis, Savage from Brandon, and Thomas and Rosenblatt from Jackson.

Pittman urged citizens to vote against the amendment, stating that a vote for the proposal "is a vote to put Mississippi squarely into the 'good old boy' type of state government."

He said that the amendment would allow legislators to use their influence to advance their personal business "with protection of law." According to Pittman, a legislator "could sell insurance policies to state agencies which must depend on the good will of legislators for their appropriations; he could sell automobiles, equipment, supplies, legal services... In short, he could apply a form of fiscal pressure to sell his products or services."

Common Cause charged that the proposed amendment would "encourage politicians to make a profit from their public office, would open the door to legalized corruption, and would result in higher taxes to pay for profits for politicians."

First to lose if the amendment is approved by the voters, said Common Cause, would be business people who earn their living by selling goods and services to the state.

"These business people will not simply compete with each other for the taxpayers' dollars," said the publication. "Instead, they will compete with an agency's boss—the state legislator—for that agency's business..."

"Businesses may have to bring on, as new partners, influential legislators if they want to compete on an equal footing."

Common Cause said such a drastic change in ethical standards for public servants would result in higher taxes, since legislators with private interests in mind "will become less frugal with public dollars if they can hope to get state business for their companies, even if they do not have specific contracts in hand."

The publication will be distributed widely across the state and will be mailed upon request to anyone. To order a copy, write Common Cause, 513 N. State St., Jackson, Ms 39201.

CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS

MISSISSIPPI

Sealed proposals will be received by the City Clerk of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, for the "Governing Body" of the "Municipality" in its regular meeting place in the City Hall of the Municipality until the hour of 5:00 o'clock p.m. on the 15th day of October, 1984, at which time said bids will be publicly opened and read, for the purchase in its entirety, at not less than par and accrued interest to the date of delivery thereof, of an issue of One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) principal amount General Obligation Water and Sewer Bonds, Series 1984, of the Municipality (the "Bonds").

The Bonds will be dated November 1, 1984, will be delivered in the denomination of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) each, or integral multiples thereof up to the amount of a single maturity, will be numbered from one upward, will be issued in fully registered form, and will bear interest from the date thereof at the rate or rates offered by the successful bidder in its bid, payable on November 1, 1985, and semiannually thereafter on May 1 and November 1 in each year. The Bonds will mature serially, within the term of the Bonds, on the date of sale of the Bonds, subject to the approval of the Municipality. The Municipality's approval of the Paying Agent shall be contingent on a determination as to the willingness and ability of the Paying Agent to perform the duties of transfer agent (the "Transfer Agent") and on the satisfactory negotiation of service fees. The Paying Agent and/or Transfer Agent shall be subject to the change by order of the Governing Body under the conditions and in the manner provided in the Bond Resolution under which the Bonds are issued.

The successful bidder must deliver to the Transfer Agent within thirty (30) days of the date of sale, or at such other later date as may be designated by the Municipality, the names and addresses of the registered owners of the Bonds and the denominations in which the Bonds of each maturity are to be issued.

If the successful bidder fails to submit such information to the Transfer Agent by the required time, one bond may be issued for each maturity in the full amount maturing on that date registered in the name of the successful bidder.

Both principal of and interest on the Bonds will be payable by check or draft mailed to registered owners of the Bonds as of the 15th day of the month preceding the maturity date for such principal or interest payment at the address appearing in the registration records of the Municipality maintained by the Transfer Agent. Payment of principal at maturity shall be conditioned on the presentation and surrender of the Bonds at the principal office of the Transfer Agent.

The Bonds will be transferable only upon the books of the Municipality maintained by the Transfer Agent.

The Bonds shall not bear a greater overall maximum interest rate to maturity than nine and one hundred twenty-five thousandths percent (9.125%) per annum, and shall mature in the amounts and on the dates hereinabove set forth; no bond shall bear more than one (1) rate of interest; each bond shall bear interest from its date to its stated maturity date at the interest rate or rates specified in the bid; all bonds of the same maturity shall bear the same rate of interest from the date of maturity. The lowest interest rate specified shall not be less than seventy percent (70%) of the highest interest rate specified; each interest rate specified must be an even multiple of one-eighth of one percent (1/8 of 1%) or one-tenth of one percent (1/10 of 1%) and a zero rate cannot be named. The interest rate for any one maturity shall not exceed eleven percent (11%) per annum.

The Bonds will be general obligations of the Municipality payable as to principal and interest out of and secured by an irrevocable pledge of the assets of a direct and continuing tax to be levied annually without limitation as to time, rate or amount upon the taxable property within the geographical limits of the Municipality. The Municipality will levy annually a special tax upon all taxable property within the geographical limits of the Municipality adequate and sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and the interest on the Bonds as the same fall due.

Proposals should be addressed to the City Clerk and should be plainly marked "Proposal for General Obligation Water and Sewer Bonds, Series 1984, of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi" and should be filed with the Clerk of the Municipality on or prior to the date and hour hereinabove named.

Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's check, certified check, or exchange, issued or certified by a bank located in the State of Mississippi, payable to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in the amount of Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000) as a guarantee that the bidder will carry out its contract and purchase the Bonds if it bid be accepted. If the successful bidder fails to purchase the Bonds pursuant to its bid and contract, then the amount of such good faith check shall be retained by the Municipality as liquidated damages for such failure. No interest will be allowed on the amount of the good faith deposit. All checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned immediately on award of the Bonds. All proposals shall remain firm for three hours after the time specified for the opening of proposals and an award of the Bonds, or rejection of proposals, will be made by the Municipality within said period of time.

The award, if any, will be made to the bidder complying with the terms of sale and offering to purchase the Bonds at the lowest net interest cost to the Municipality. The net interest cost will be determined by computing the aggregate interest on the Bonds over the full term of the Bonds at the rate or rates offered by the bidder, less premium offered, if any. It is requested that each proposal be accompanied by a statement of the net interest cost computed to six decimal places, but such statement will not be considered a part of the proposal.

The Governing Body reserves the right to reject any and all bids submitted and to waive any irregularity or informality.

The Bonds are offered subject to the unqualified approval of the legality thereof by Watkins Ludlum & Stennis, Jackson, Mississippi, Bond Counsel. The Municipality will pay for all legal fees and will pay for the printing and validation of the Bonds, and will also furnish the usual closing papers, including a certificate evidencing the fact that no litigation is pending in any way affecting the legality of the Bonds or the taxes to be levied for the payment of the principal and interest thereon.

Delivery of the Bonds is expected to be made within sixty (60) days after the successful date of sale of the Bonds at a place to be designated by the purchaser and without cost to the purchaser.

It is anticipated that CUSIP Identification numbers will be printed on the Bonds unless specifically declined by the purchaser, but neither the failure to print such number on any bond nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for a failure or refusal by the purchaser thereof to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds in accordance with the terms of the purchase contract. All expenses in relation to the printing of CUSIP numbers on the Bonds shall be paid by the purchaser; the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of said numbers shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid for by the purchaser.

Further information with respect to the Bonds may be obtained from the Office of the City Clerk, City Hall, City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39202.

By order of the City Council of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, on September 4, 1984.

Child center wants revenue sharing

By DENA BISNETTE

The city of Bay St. Louis has proposed using its revenue sharing funds for capital outlay, but the Hancock County Child Development Center is interested in using some of the money to expand its program.

Beth Favre, director of the center, spoke to city councilmen Harry Farve and Sheldon Seuzeneau at Tuesday's revenue sharing hearing about using some of the money as matching funds for a federal grant.

The city expects to have a total of $170,000 in revenue sharing funds available this year, including surplus from last year, City Clerk Eddie Favre said.

Out of those funds, use of $162,000 for capital outlay, most of which is expected to consist of street and drainage work, has been proposed by the city.

The remaining funds, according to the city's proposal, would remain as surplus for next year. Mrs. Favre is interested in using about $2,000 of this surplus for the center.

The center, according to Mrs. Favre, provides child care to working parents at fees calculated according to family income. It presently serves 49 children and is funded through a combination of federal Title 20 grants and matching money provided by the county.

If the city provides additional matching funds, the center can request another grant and expand to serve more students, she said.

The matching money would cover 25 percent of the expansion cost and the grant would pay for the remaining 75 percent.

She plans to make a similar request to the city of Waveland, she added.

Councilman Farve said the request would have to be checked with an attorney because he was not certain whether revenue sharing money can be used to match a federal grant since revenue sharing is also classed as a federal program.

He also asked for more specific information on the amount of money the center needs and on the federal grant

Mrs. Favre discussed.

The only other people attending the hearing were a few parents whose children attend the center.

The city council will decide how to use the revenue sharing funds at one of its October meetings.

Hancock schools decide not to bus special students

By DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County School Board has voted to buy a trailer classroom unit rather than move about 15 fourth, fifth and sixth grade special education students to another school.

The decision was made Monday after a group of about 20 parents addressed the board in protest of a busing proposal.

The board also heard from the district's special education director, Jeannette Handshoe, who cited problems with space at Gulfview Elementary as the reason for wanting to move the students.

According to Mrs. Handshoe, moving the students to Clermont Harbor School, where a room is available, is not feasible because some of them must be mainstreamed into regular classrooms for part of the day and the school does not have regular classes at fourth, fifth and sixth grade levels.

Moving them there would make it necessary to bus them back to Gulfview for part of the day.

The alternative, before the possibility of a trailer was discussed, was moving the students to Charles B. Murphy School in Pearlington.

A seventh and eighth grade special education class that also has no classroom and a preschool group would have been moved to Clermont Harbor under that proposal.

Mrs. Handshoe said moving the younger special education students could be traumatic for the children but added that the district has the services of a clinical psychologist who could assist with problems arising from the transition.

However, she said some of these students had already been forced to change schools when a program at Clermont Harbor was discontinued and had experienced related setbacks.

The parents who addressed the board felt the children should not be bused to Pearlington and asked for a trailer classroom unit.

Mrs. Handshoe said a double-wide unit would provide two classrooms, one for the fourth, fifth and sixth graders and one for the seventh and eighth grade group.

The board authorized Superintendent Terrell Randolph to try to locate a trailer at a state contract price to avoid the 60-day delay the usual bidding procedure would incur.

The board also approved a new sick leave policy for non-certified school personnel which allows two days personal leave, three days sick leave and five days extended sick leave, cumulative over a period of several years to a maximum of 30 days for employees on a nine-month contract with an added day of sick leave for employees on 10 to 12 month contracts.

The board approved the policy after receiving a written opinion from the state attorney general, which contended that school districts are allowed to extend sick leave to non-certified personnel.

In other business, the board approved the resignations of one janitor and two part-time adult education teachers; heard a report on a recent testing and evaluation seminar from Hancock North Central Guidance Counselor Jasper Fall, and approved several requests for use of school facilities.

The board also employed Verna Walker as an adult education teacher for Hancock North Central, Mary Griffin as full-time monitor for Gulfview Elementary School, and Renee Necaise, Clarence Green and Chris Austin as bus drivers.

The next board meeting is Oct. 20 at 9 a.m.

Elda Duke named chairman of Hancock Lung Association

The Hancock County Chapter of the Mississippi Lung Association has named officers to serve during 1984-85 in the year-round crusade to prevent and control lung diseases.

Mrs. Elda Duke will serve as chairman to direct local "Christmas Seal" programs of education, service and fund-raising. Other key volunteers include: Selma George, Erskine Skelton and Dr. Sidney Chevis.

"We are working to protect and improve the lung health of all Mississippians through expanded programs of 'life and breath.' Mississippi Lung Association programs inform citizens about the health hazards of smoking and emphasize the importance of protecting healthy lungs.

Ticket sales not to benefit local agencies

By EDGAR PEREZ

Sale in the Hancock County area this week of tickets to a country-western music show or solicitation of advertisements in a buyers guide will not benefit charities or public agencies here.

Clarice Gustin, executive secretary of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, said tickets apparently are being offered for sale here by a firm hired by the Ocean Springs Police Department.

Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Andrew Lizana said some merchants in the city apparently believed the ticket and advertising sales would benefit the Hancock County Firefighters Association's annual Toys-For-Tots program.

Others are under the impression the ticket sales may benefit law enforcement agencies in Hancock County, Gustin added.

But the solicitations currently being made have no local connection, the officials pointed out.

VFW PICNIC

Several members of the Theodore S. Price Aux. 3253 recently accompanied the veterans from the Gulfport hospital to Ship Island for a picnic.

The members, who enjoyed this venture, were Hazel Wohlschlegel, Inez Bouls, Barbara Kingston, Margie Schultz, Mamie Carver and Jeanne and Vincent Galatta.

LARGEST BEE

The world's largest bee, last spotted in 1859, has been rediscovered in Indonesia by a University of Georgia student, reports 'International Wildlife' magazine. The bee, which grows to the size of a small hummingbird, "blundered into me," says entomologist Adam Messer, who has since located seven colonies of the bees on three islands.

NO HIGH BUILDINGS

San Franciscans have voted to prohibit construction of any high-rise building that would cast "significant" shadows over public parks, says the National Wildlife Federation. About 200 parks, playgrounds and squares will be affected by the new law.

Aerospace symposium to include NSTL tour

Veteran astronaut John Young will be keynote speaker at the second annual Aerospace Technology Symposium being presented by the Greater New Orleans Section of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

Oct. 25-26 at the University of New Orleans.

Co-sponsored by Martin Marietta Aerospace, Rocketdyne Division of Rockwell International, University of New Orleans, and the Greater New Orleans Section, the symposium will present 65 papers under the theme "Aerospace: The Golden Crescent" during concurrent sessions Thursday and Friday afternoons.

The authors represent major NASA space centers within the "Golden Crescent" from Johnson Space Center, Marshall Space Flight Center, Kennedy Space Center, National Space Technology Laboratories, and the Michoud Assembly Facility.

The term "Golden Crescent" evolved during the early 1960s as the space program began to shift into high gear and it became apparent that the Southeastern United States was becoming the center of activity.

Various people, taking note of this phenomenon compared the area to the Fertile Crescent.

James Webb, NASA administrator, called the area bounded by Houston, Huntsville, Cape Canaveral and encompassing New Orleans and Bay St. Louis the "Southern Space Crescent."

But, it was Werner Von Braun, chief rocket scientist at the Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, who is credited with coining "The Golden Crescent."

Chancellor of the University of New Orleans, Dr. Cooper Mackin, will welcome the participants on Thursday, Oct. 25 at 8:30 a.m.

Following John Young's keynote address will be a plenary session of five advanced programs presentations on such topics as the Palapa satellite recovery scheduled for a November Space Shuttle mission, shuttle derived vehicles and the U.S. space station.

A cocktail party for participants and guests will be held Thursday, Oct. 25 at 5 p.m. at Sclafani's Restaurant, 9900 Haynes Blvd.

Friday's sessions will begin at 8:30 a.m. and conclude with a noon luncheon featuring Lt. General Forrest S. McCartney, head of the U.S. Air Force Space Division in Los Angeles.

The symposium will end with a tour of the National Space Technology Laboratories (NSTL) in Hancock County from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Registration fees of $30 for AIAA members, $40 for non-members and $15 for students include admission, two luncheons, cocktail party, the NSTL tour and a copy of the proceedings.

Individual tickets are available for all events.

The public is invited. For information call Joyce Ronquillo at 255-3910 or Paul Fitzgerald at 255-4588.

CAIRE

Curry powder, probably the world's earliest known spice blend, adds a piquant and delicious touch to so many dishes we know well, from appetizers and soups, to chicken and meat and vegetable curries, that we sometimes forget what a special taste boon it is to fruits and desserts and such.

The word 'curry' is used to describe a blend of ground spices, also called "curry powder" as well as the well-spiced sauces and stew dishes using these blended spices.

We have our earlier seafarers of America to thank for the introduction of curry into our American cookery.

Curries, native to India, were mentioned as early as 477 A.D. in history, and the very word from the Tamil kari, is recorded in the English language in the sixteenth century, and from then on the word, "curry" became the name for the native dish of old India, encompassing all sorts of dishes incorporating the spice.

Rare cookbooks, 200 years old, call for curry powder in Indian style dishes, and the cookbook of our country's own Williamsburg, of Colonial days, calls for curry powder in a gumbo that dates from 1837 and includes a chicken along with 20 to 30 oysters and a handful of okra!

And, as I said before, our sea captain ancestors brought curry powder home from the Far East as an exotic treasure for their wives and sweethearts and mothers, to enliven the cuisine of the new country.

But, delicious as the chicken or meat or seafood or vegetable curries, served over rice, and with the usual accompaniments of condiments, there's a whole field of curry flavored dishes perhaps you've never tasted - curried fruits, as an accompaniment to the main course or as a delightful cake or cookie or ice-cream extra.

The other day, Isabelle Guilbault asked us all over for breakfast - of grits and turkey hash and hot curried fruit, and it was all delicious, especially the fruit mixture, a tangy accent to the grits and hash and hot biscuits and coffee cake and coffee - we're all ready to return to Isabelle's any morning for that repast! So, here's:

- Hot Curried Fruit Isabelle
- 1 can apricots (8 1/2 oz.)
  - 1 can sliced pears (8 1/2 oz.)
  - 1 can sliced peaches (8 1/2 oz.)
  - 1 grapefruit, 8 1/2 oz.
  - 1 1/2 cups sliced bananas
  - 1 jar dark pitted cherries (17 oz.)
  - 2 Tbsp. cornstarch
  - 1 Tbsp. curry powder - start with just a whiff or so and add to your taste
  - 1 Tbsp. cinnamon
  - 1 cup brown sugar
  - 1 stick butter, melted

Drain the fruit, place in a two-quart casserole or other baking dish, and bake in a 350 degree oven for approximately a half hour - that's all there is to it - but, oh, how delicious!

And, remember, apart from its use in main dish curries and fruits medleys such as this, curry powder adds a special sting to such things as mayonnaise for fruit or other salads - just the barest pinch along with a pinch of pepper, and salt if you're using it - or just the merest dash in a white sauce or in buttered vegetables or potatoes or - use your imagination! Just remember, in curry powder, as in any other seasoning, don't dump it in, taste as you go along.

Incidentally, to get the most flavor from curry powder, moisten it or cook it in a very little bit of butter or fat before using, the flavor's much better. Curry powder, a blend of ground spices, is available on the grocery shelves, but if you're more adventurous, I'll be glad to give you my formula for blending your own.

agreed with Longo, who said "if it is good for Hancock County, it has got to be good for Waveland."

"I will vote for it," Longo said, "because I know how bad it is needed and Hancock County needs to progress forward."

Peterson said he wanted it on record that he would never charge the city $12 to haul a prisoner to jail, as had been done in Harrison County.

During the meeting the board presented Mildred Means an appreciation plaque for her many years of service with the Waveland library.

Means worked with the bookmobile before Waveland had a library.

The board also voted to give senior citizens who meet specific requirements a five percent discount on water and gas rates for the months of January, February and March.

During the meeting the police department was authorized to purchase a National Crime Information Center computer. The computer, a CTI 1000-A terminal, will cost the city $3,570 at a state contract price and $40 a month for maintenance.

Currently the department is renting a computer that costs the city $209 a month, in addition to a $75 per month maintenance charge.

The new computer should be installed at the department by Nov. 15.

Charles Bourgeois, water superintendent for the city, presented bids to the board for a new truck for the water and gas department.

The board decided to accept the low bid providing it is not necessary to advertise for bids for the truck.

They also agreed to advertise for bids to replace the roof on the library. The specifications require that the roof be tapered four inches to prevent the water from gathering on the roof.

They later voted to return a payment of $133.03 to Mrs. Henry Herbert, for an erroneous assessment of charges that had been assigned to her.

After much discussion, the board moved that the street sign on Duthu Road be removed, as the street had not been dedicated to the city and the city street department had not done any repairs or maintenance on the street.

Action had been requested by the owner, who says the street is not a public thoroughfare, but is a private drive.

In other business, the board passed two resolutions on a proposed urban renewal plan. One resolution included the general urban renewal plan and the other provided that the plan be submitted to the Planning and Zoning Commission at their Oct. 15 meeting.

Local quartet to be featured in charter show

BARBERSHOP QUARTET—The Bay Four and After, a barbershop quartet consisting of Bro. Pierre St. Pierre, Doug Taylor, Eddie Hodges and Bunk Gardner, put finishing touches on a song during a recent performance at the Pass Christian Yacht Club.

The Bay Four and After, a local barbershop quartet, will be among the featured performers at the Mississippi SeaChords Chorus annual Charter Show Oct. 12 at the Saenger theater in Biloxi.

Singers in the Bay Four and After are Bro. Pierre St. Pierre, baritone; Doug Taylor, lead; Eddie Hodges, tenor; and Bunk Gardner, bass.

St. Pierre is also an assistant director of the Mississippi SeaChords Chorus, a 44-member group that is a charter member of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber-shop Quartet Singing in America.

The charter show will include Hometown Reunion of Jackson, which finished in the top 10 percent in national competition; Singing River Sounds of Pascagoula; and Pride of Mobile.

The show will also feature an "after-glow," in which the members of various quartets sing together.

Tickets are $5 each for the show, which begins at 7:30 and $2 for the "After-glow" and are available from all SeaChord members, the Art Council office in Edgewater Mall and Electronics Services in Gulfport. Further information is available from Gardner at 467-9876.

Supervisors correct error in pay raise

By DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County supervisors have corrected an error in a pay raise they voted for themselves last week.

On Thursday, the supervisors raised their pay $5,000 per year in accordance with property assessments in the county but found out later that the raise they were entitled to amounted to only $3,000 per year.

The board formally corrected the error with a motion at Monday's meeting. Pay raises continued as a discussion topic, however, when the board decided to raise the pay of County Voter Registrar and Circuit Clerk John Rutherford Jr. by $6,000 per year.

Mississippi law states that the amount of the county voting registrar's pay must be determined by the population of the county as determined by the last census.

According to the 1980 census, the county population totals just under 25,000 and Rutherford is entitled to a salary of no less than $8,000 per year and no more than $14,000.

As registrar, he has been receiving the $8,000 minimum pay and the board voted to increase his salary to the full $14,000 allowed.

Rutherford receives no salary as circuit clerk because circuit clerks in Mississippi are paid through fees collected by their offices. Based on last year's circuit clerk earnings, Rutherford's total income is expected to reach about $30,000 this year.

JEFF TAYLOR

In other business, the board was addressed by Jeff Taylor of Gulf Regional Planning Commission concerning a proposal for repairing the county's beachfront.

The proposal is a long-term project that could include reconstruction of the sand beaches in both Harrison and Hancock counties, repair of Beach Road, construction of a commercial harbor at Bayou Cadet and correction of drainage problems.

Taylor asked the board members to attend a joint meeting Thursday with the Harrison County Board of Supervisors; representatives of Bureau of Marine Resources, South Mississippi Planning and Development District and other agencies; and possibly the mayors of Bay St. Louis, Waveland and other coastal cities.

He said committees to work on the proposal would probably be created at the meeting. Taylor expects major topics of discussion to include a $150,000 BMR Coastal Energy Impact Program grant application and bond issues to add local funds to grant money.

The board also authorized its clerk to dispose of any docketed bills that are 10 years old or older; approved the direct payment of all revenues for the Diamondhead Fire Protection District to the district rather than payment through county channels; and formally endorsed the jail bond issue.

STOLEN BUILDING MATERIALS—Hancock County Sheriff's Investigator Delbert Seay, left, and Deputy Nathan Hoda view building materials reportedly stolen from a New Orleans construction company and recovered from a Rocky Hill residence. Hancock Sheriff Ronald Peterson said, Tammy Lynn Gambill, 22, and Michael Spiers, 29, both of Rt. 1, Pass Christian were arrested on Tuesday and some $5,000 of building materials recovered. Rick Gilley of Willow Brook Construction identified the materials as being stolen from his New Orleans company, Peterson stated. Seay is in charge of the investigation which is still continuing and other arrests are expected, Peterson said. Hoda and James Neacise, Hancock night jailer, are assisting in the case. ## Off Beat

LET'S TALK FACTS

The Hancock County jail is one of the worst in the state, according to the Mississippi State Building Commission. Here are some facts that tell you why.

The present jail was built in 1937 to house only 15 inmates. Now, nearly 50 years later, it houses as many as 50.

Instead of seeing improvements over the years, we have witnessed a deplorable deterioration of living conditions:

—The jail contains only six cells, or a total of 972 square feet of cell space. This gives 50 inmates a living space equal to a 4 x 5 hallway closet.

—Each cell contains from two to 12 bunk beds. That's not enough so there are sleeping mats on the floor. Even so, inmates often sleep in shifts.

—There are only four single-stall showers.

—The inmates share five toilets, one in each cell and not enclosed.

—Meals are brought to the cells because there is no mess hall.

The need is urgent.

BAYS girl soccer teams open in Slidell

The opening whistle of the season in girls' soccer has blown this past Saturday as all of BAYS' girls teams were in action in Slidell.

The Under-8 Mason Exxon "Tigerettes," the Under-10 Gifts and Gold "Golden Nuggets," the Under-12 Dillmann Roofing "Dynamites" and the Under-14 Cannon Copying Machine "Cannonballs" are all playing in the Slidell League this fall season. The results for the day were mixed.

The Tigerettes, with virtually all inexperienced players, drew Slidell's best in the opening game and were routed 8-0. "The girls did well for their very first game," said assistant Coach Virginia Felder.

Mary West was outstanding on defense, saving several goals, and Gwen Croft showed some good passing skills in the forward line.

The Golden Nuggets fared much better, playing to a scoreless tie. The BAYS team had numerous opportunities, but were unable to score due to an inexperienced forward line, although Erin O'Brien played well on offense.

The defense was anchored by the outstanding goalkeeping of Megan Urma. Coach Waddy LeBourgeois commended the team for "good aggressive play by all."

The Dynamites picked up from where they left off last year, relying on strong defense to eke out a 1-0 victory. Coach Kathy Edwards commended the team for playing well. Susanna Cameron was outstanding in goal, and Kim Weinstein scored the only goal on a solo effort.

The Cannonballs dominated their opponents, but were unable to score, falling 2-0. One of those goals was due to an inexperienced goalkeeper. The defense was outstanding, especially the play of Jennifer Powers.

DeShea Blanchette and Missy Breath played well offensively, but the inability to score underlines this team's only real weakness—the lack of a killer instinct on offense.

"This team has tremendous potential," remarked Coach Joann Duncan, "but we need more girls so the players on the field can keep fresher." The team practices on Wednesdays, 4 p.m. at St. Augustine Seminary.

The Sports World "Cruisers," also were in Slidell to play a Select Under-14 team. Due to a shortage of players three girls from last year's team who have moved up were called upon to play.

One of these was Dana Wheeler who was outstanding in goal in the first half, allowing only one goal. Although the final score was 4-0, the last three goals were against inexperienced goalkeepers. There were several bright spots, particularly the play of Shannon O'Brien and Andrea Ambrose on offense. Kim Coggin at midfield and Patricia Garcia and Amy Fayard on defense.

The passing is noticeably improved, and the new players will improve as they gain experience. Coach Frank Gray, who is leaving the area, announced that Jan D. Brameyer has agreed to take over the coaching duties with the assistance of Shane Foreman.

Brameyer played in Holland for many years and is reputed to have been an outstanding goalkeeper. This team is very fortunate to have a replacement coach of such caliber. But he will need help from the parents.

"The team also needs some more players, so come out on Wednesdays, 5 p.m. at St. Augustine Seminary, and learn the fun sport of soccer," requested Coach Gray.

Close score expected...

Tigers to face Rocks in hard-hitting game

By DENA BISNETTE

A hard hitting and close game is expected when Bay High takes the field against St. Stanislaus Friday night.

Both coaches expect the cross-town rivalry to be a tough ball game.

Bay High Coach Cleveland Williams considers Friday's game as one of the most important games of the Bay High season. "We don't have to get psyched up for St. Stanislaus," he said after his team's win last week against Vanceave. "We already are."

"There will be a lot of enthusiasm on both sides and we're expecting to see a good, sound ballgame on both sides," said St. Stanislaus Coach Vernon Powell.

"The coaches there spend a lot of time on fundamentals. Last week against Vanceave all their hard work paid off," Powell stated.

"The Bay High game has always been close. Last year it was 10-7 with Bay High winning. Only on a couple of occasions has it been what I'd call a blow-out, and then it was always in Bay High's favor."

"Since Bay High has an effective defensive weapon that could explode at any moment, I hope they don't repeat one of those past performances," he said.

Williams says the Tigers have been playing better football both offensively and defensively as the season progresses. They have only one win to their credit, but have been able to develop both their passing and running games.

He said both teams have a balanced offensive attack. He expects his team to go up against a strong defense when they meet the Rock-a-chaws.

Powell added that both teams have a number of players, mostly linemen, who play both offensively and defensively. The fact that some players are in for almost the entire football game may be a factor Friday night, he said.

"For a team that has almost all of their linemen going both ways, they're in very good shape," he said of the Tigers.

He added that the Rocks are facing a team where a successful game may be based on stopping several players rather than one or two standouts. Tigers his defense has to stop include Eddie Nelson, Jeffrey Smith, Trace McRaney, Richard Whavers and Matt Fairconnetue.

St. Stanislaus will not make any major strategy changes Friday, since Powell feels the one the Rocks have been using will be successful against the Tigers.

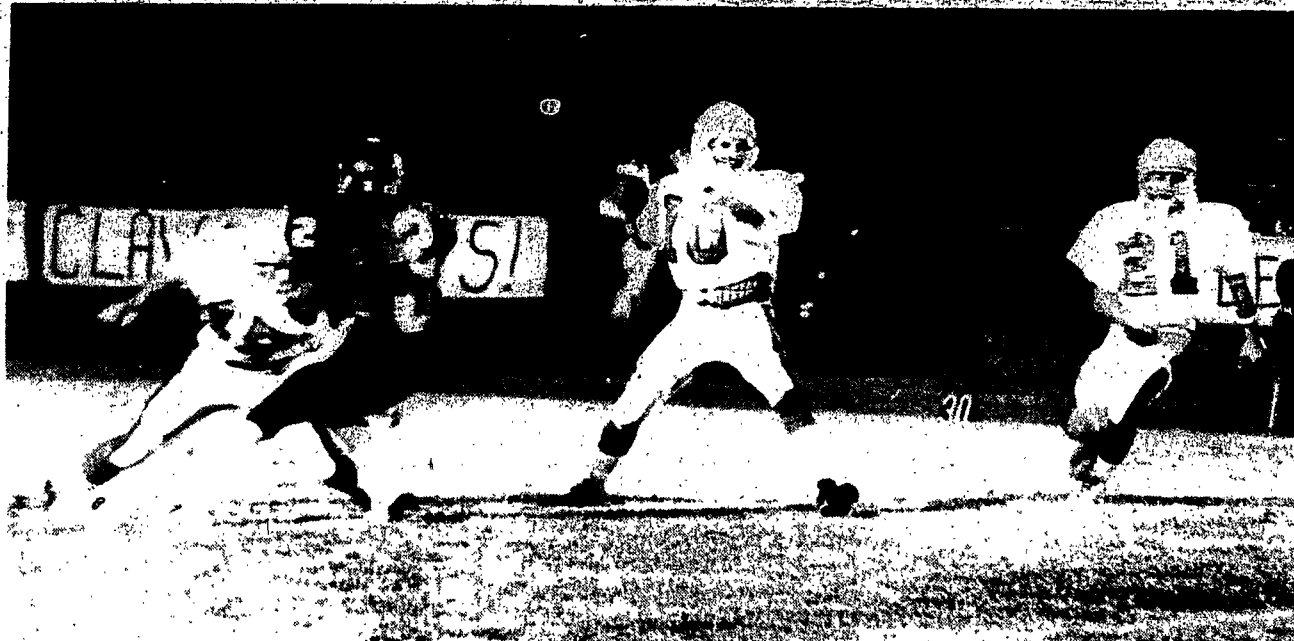

However, some changes may have to be made in the starting line-up because several players are suffering from a virus and bruises from a previous game.

Williams named as his probable starters Jerry Head, Patrick Whavers, Kevin James, Phillip Hart, Greg Nease, Robert Hargett, Eddie Nelson, Dennis Dear, Trace McRaney, Richard Whavers, Jeffrey Smith, Jay Ginn and Matt Fairconnetue.

Game time is 7:30 at St. Stanislaus field.

CONTEST WINNERS—Dolores Kass, left, and Catherine B. Galivan, both of Waveland, are also both first place winners in last week's Sea Coast Echo Football Contest. Both picked ten winners out of 12 games, selected identical tie breaker points of 21 as closest to the total points scored in the 25-7 Pass Christian and Hancock North Central High School contest, and coincidentally both missed the same two games, the St. Stanislaus-Long Beach and USM-Memphis State events. Kass and Galivan split the total first ($15) and second ($10) place awards to receive $12.50 each. (Echo staff photos by Edgar Perez)

Diamondhead ladies golf winners told

The Diamondhead Ladies Golf Association held the club's championship plays in September.

Winner was Florience Holt; runner up, Corrine Ladner; consolation flight winner, Mamie Calmes.

First flight: winner, Eva Bond; runner-up, Pat Tayler; consolation winner, Bonnie Coughtry; and runner-up Wilma Smith.

Second flight: winner, Maggie Macmellan; runner-up, Margaret Fortier; consolation winner, Doris Wattigney; runner-up, Neuva Sears and medalist winner, Mary Hayes.

Magazine to publish Larry Ladner

Coach J. Larry Ladner, of Kiln, the basketball specialist for the Department of Athletic Administration and Coaching at the University of Southern Mississippi, will have an article published in the November issue of "The Basketball Clinic" magazine.

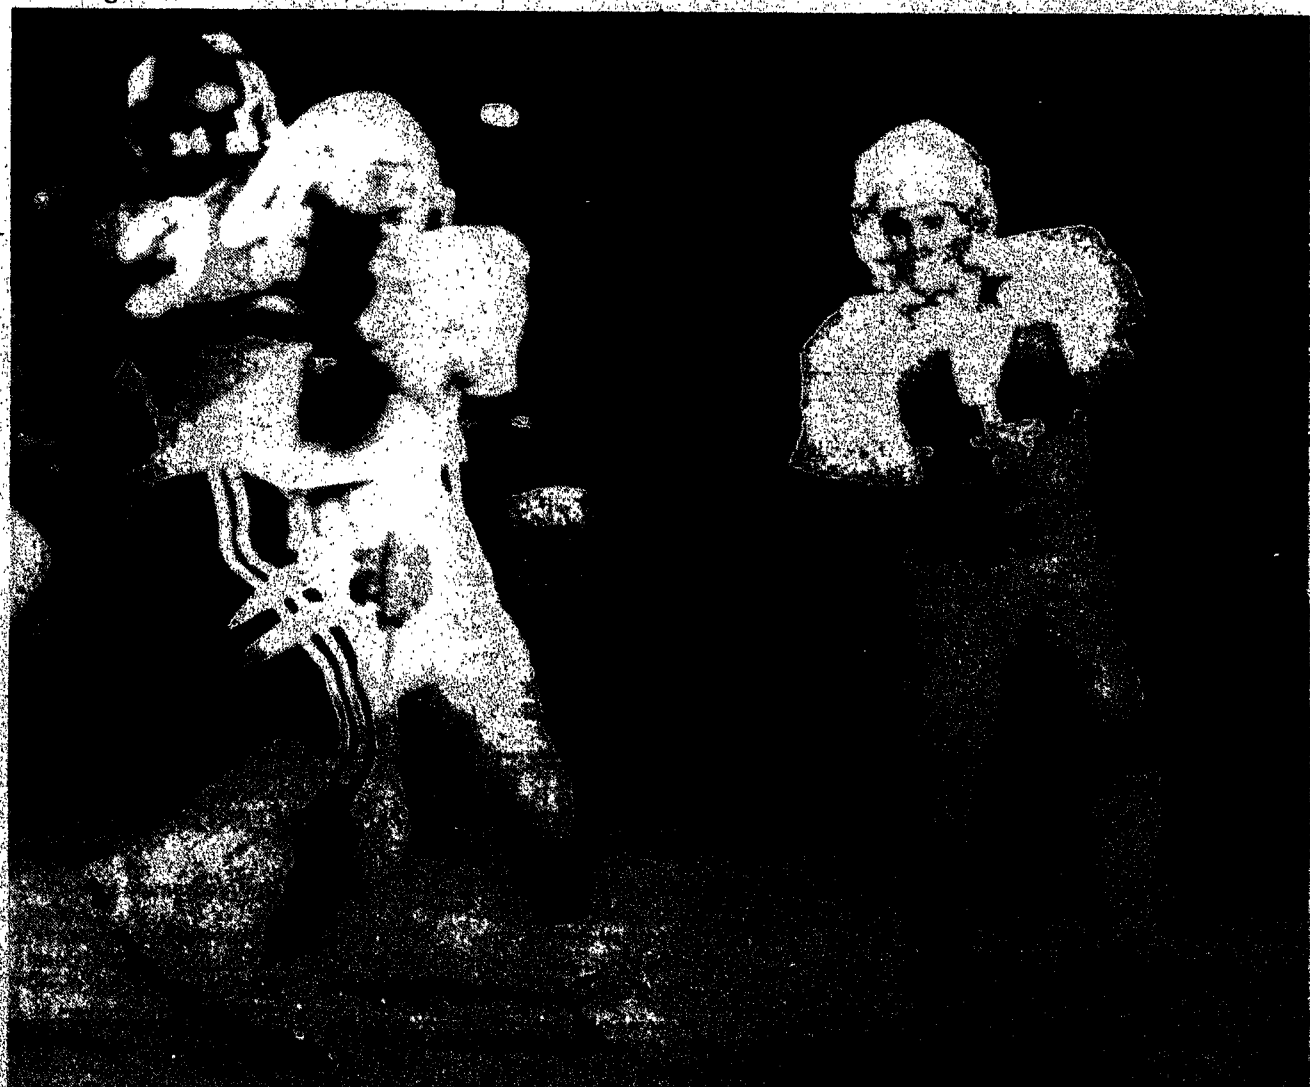

The article is entitled "The Psychological and Sociological Factors That May Affect Shooting."

In the article Ladner covers the five areas he feels has the most important effects on a person's basketball shooting abilities. Those five factors are, psychological factors, physiological factors, environment, retro-active inhibitions and inhibitive fears.

The many psychological factors Ladner discusses are attitude, poise, desire, motivation and confidence. The physiological factors include diet, rest, conditioning, motor skills and innate vs. acquired ability.

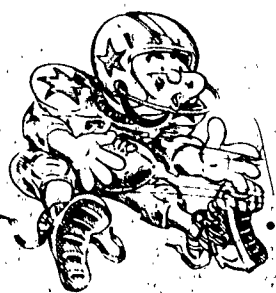

Factors within a player's environment addressed in the article are the home environment, the male-female relationship, traumatic experiences, peer pressure, publicity and fan adulation.

In the final two sections of his article the veteran coach discusses factors that inhibit successful shooting.

Bowhunter 42-day deer season opens Saturday

Mississippi bowhunters will soon be in the woods hunting the state's most popular game animal—the white-tailed deer.

Always the first hunting season on deer, the archery season this year opens on Saturday and extends through Nov. 16.

Only longbows, recurves, or compound bows are permitted during the archery season.

The bag limit on deer during this period is one antlered buck per day, but no more than five during the entire deer season. During the archery season, the bag limit on antlerless deer is one per day, but no more than three per license year.

This means that if a bowhunter took his five bucks and three antlerless deer all during the archery season, he would have filled his bag limit on deer for the remainder of the year, and would be unable to harvest deer during any of the other gun or primitive weapon seasons.

Hunters should know that any person operating a deer camp during a deer season must obtain a camp permit from the Department of Wildlife Conservation before beginning operation. An application for a permit may be obtained by writing the Department at P.O. Box 451, Jackson, Ms 39205, or call 601/961-5300.

Raiders take 3rd victory

The Coast Episcopal High School Red Raiders shut out the Bible Baptist Academy of Gulfport, 26-0 Friday night, to bring their season record to two wins and one loss.

Raider defense held their opponents to only four first downs and allowed them gain less than 100 yards offensively.

Leading the defensive squad was Victor Marchese, John Gregory, Chip Sandifer and Greg Thurmond. Sandifer intercepted a Bible Baptist Academy lateral to stop a drive.

The Raider scoring was evenly divided among the three running backs, Sandifer, Dylan Langdon and Thurmond. Each of these players tallied a touchdown for the Raiders on the ground.

Next week the Raiders will host the Cornerstone Academy of Baton Rouge. The game will be played Saturday, Oct. 6 at 4:30 p.m.

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

This week's game between the Pass Christian Pirates and the Stone County Tomcats should determine who will have a shot at the Deep South Conference title, Pirate Coach Alton Wright said.

Both teams have a season record of three wins and one loss.

Currently Stone County is the conference leader with victories over three conference opponents. The Pirates have won only two conference games.

"It's a toss-up," Wright said, "I believe we have a little quicker defense but they have a quicker offense."

Wright said his team would have to stop Stone County quarterback Stevon

Moore, to win. Moore threw three touchdown passes last week and ran one in himself.

"If we can stop their offense, we can win the game," Wright said.

The defense will be running the same as last week, he added.

The Pirate defense was able to hold the Hawks to one touchdown last week and forced several turnovers in the game.

He said a "new wrinkle" is planned for the offense.

"We are going to try to run the ball on them, but if that doesn't work, we have something to fall back on," he said.

The game will be on the Pirates' home field with kickoff at 7:30 p.m.

NHC Hawks travel to East Central

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Hancock North Central Hawk Coach Irvin Favre said the team has been working hard on fundamentals of football this week in preparation for Friday's game with East Central.

"We've been working very hard on what we haven't been doing right for the past few games," Favre said.

We feel like we've been hurting ourselves with mistakes, he said, and it does not take many critical mistakes to lose the game.

East Central has a 1-3 record, with their first win coming last week over Leakesville, 7-6.

Favre said the long trip to East Central might affect the players but that he hopes they can turn the season around and take a win.

"We definitely need to win this game," Favre said, "because we start district play next week."

We need something positive with us when we face St. Martin Oct. 12, he said.

The high number of injured players, which have plagued the Hawks for several weeks, should be down this week.

Last week three starters, Billy Davis, Stanley Jourdan and Charles Burton, were out of the game because of injuries.

Favre said Davis will definitely be back this week and Jourdan and Burton have been practicing with the team and will hopefully be playing Friday night.

However, one of the Hawks' outstanding players, Steve McQueen, will not be able to play again this year. McQueen was hurt in the opening minutes of last week's game and had surgery earlier this week.

Kickoff will be at 7:30 on the East Central field.

PRC even at mid-season

The Pearl River Wildcats are midway through their 1984 football season and after five games the record stands 2-2-1. Now it's time for the second feature.

This week the River will take on the East Central Warriors at Decatur. It's the first week of the second half of the season. It's a fresh start to a very weary beginning.

PIRATES READY FOR STONE—The Pass Christian Pirates defeated Hancock North Central with runs made by Tony Howell, No. 20 and others 25-7. Hawks in play include Blake Brown, No. 66, and Louis Burton, No. 46. Head Coach Alton

Wright hopes to keep his winning streak intact against a very strong Stone County Tomcats in Pirate stadium this Friday. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI COUNTY OF HANCOCK CIRCUIT COURT SHERIFF'S OFFICE CAUSE NO. 88-4

TO: Glenn E. Overton and his wife, June E. Overton, a non-resident of the State of Mississippi whose residence address is 1367 Hickman Avenue, New Orleans, Louisiana 70117.

You are summoned to appear before the Circuit Court of Hancock County, Mississippi, for the purpose of settling the estate of the late Glenn E. Overton, deceased, in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Hancock County, Mississippi, on the 24th day of October, 1984, at 9:30 o'clock a.m. at the Hancock County Courthouse, City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, to defend said suit filed by the City of Bay St. Louis, and through its Mayor, Larry J. Bennett to condemn an easement, and right of way for drainage ditch, over, across and under a strip or portion of the following described property in which you have an interest, as more fully set forth in the Petition for Eminent Domain.

Commencing at the intersection of the line between Lots 3 and 125, First Ward, City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, and the Southwesterly line of North Front Street, thence N 40 degrees 52 minutes W 339.23 feet along the said Southwesterly line to an iron stake; thence S 87 degrees 00 minutes W 150 feet to the place of beginning; thence N 78 degrees 45 minutes W 84.9 feet to a point; thence S 50 degrees 00 minutes W 15 feet to a point; thence S 68 degrees 30 minutes E 83 feet to the place of beginning.

Containing 0.014 acres, more or less, 82.5 square feet and being part of Lot 3, First Ward, City of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Mississippi.

The easement sought to be condemned is to be used for the purpose of constructing a drainage ditch.

This 7th day of September, 1984.
FAMELIA METZLER
Chief Deputy
Circuit Clerk
10-4; 10-11; 10-18-84

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Notice is hereby given that separate sealed bids for the construction of a Sewage Collection and Treatment Plant for the Stennis Industrial Airpark will be received by the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission at the Hancock County Courthouse, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, until 10:00 o'clock A.M., on October 12, 1984, and then at said place publicly opened and read aloud.

The information for Bidders, Form of Bid, Plans of Contract, Plans, Specifications and Forms of Bid Bond, Performance and Payment Bond, and other pertinent documents may be examined at the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, Hancock County, Mississippi, or Borgin Engineering, Inc., 106-C Northwest Interstate, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

Sealed bids must be submitted to the Commission at the office of Borgin Engineering, Inc., located at the address above, upon payment of $25.00 for a bid bond. This payment is non-refundable.

The bidder reserves the right to waive any informalities or to reject any or all bids.

Bidder must deposit with his bid, in the amount, form and subject to the conditions provided in the instructions to Bidders.

Attention of bidders is particularly directed to the requirements as to conditions of employment to be observed and the wage rates to be paid under the contract, and to the fact that this project is being funded by the Mississippi Department of Community Development and the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Thus all bidders and federal regulations, including those of the President's Job Bill, must be followed.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within ten days after the actual date of opening bids.

September 28, 1984.
HARRY C. BAXTER
Secretary
10-4; 10-11; 10-18-84

Diamondhead Show features 80 artists

Staff photos by
Dena Bisnette

COPPER FOUNTAINS—Visitors to the Diamondhead Arts and Creative Crafts Show admire copper fountains constructed by Eva Hansen and Hobby Van Der Weyden of Ponchatoula, La. The group of floral-designed fountains was one of the more unique displays among the more than 80 included in the show, according to Linda Wallace of the Diamondhead Parents' Association, the group sponsoring the event.

NAUTICAL WOODWORK—Edward Bjorkman of Ponchatoula, La., displays some of his handcarved wooden dock scenes and clocks at the Diamondhead Arts and Creative Crafts Show Saturday. His booth was one of the featured attractions at the show, which was sponsored by the Diamondhead Parents' Association and included more than 80 artists.

WEAVER AT WORK—Janis Mineart of Diamondhead, one of several members of the Dyed-In-the-Wool Weavers' Guild who displayed their work Saturday at an art show in Diamondhead, demonstrates her craft for spectators.

SUNSHINE AND STAINED GLASS—Several spectators at the annual Diamondhead Arts and Creative Crafts Show Saturday visit with an artist displaying stained glass products.

DOLL DISPLAY—A young visitor to Saturday's Diamondhead Arts and Creative Crafts Show and her mother discover a stand displaying Cabbage Patch-type dolls. Various kinds of dolls were on display, and this little girl has found one of the most popular.

BUCCANEER MANAGER HONORED—Greg Smith, Manager of Buccaneer State Park, received two awards at the annual awards banquet sponsored by the Bureau of Recreation and Parks. Buccaneer State Park was named best maintained park in the southern district and Smith was named Manager of the Year for Class IV Parks. The awards were presented by Aubrey Rozzell, director Bureau of Recreation and Parks.

District-wide policies necessary to maintaining classroom discipline

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article, entitled 'Back To School: Disciplining The Unruly' by Anita Howard a Public Research, syndicated special correspondent on educational matters, is furnished to The Sea Coast Echo by PRS of Claremont, Calif.

Austin—Teachers are fighting back, and are claiming some small victories in retaking their classrooms from unruly students. Their weapon is the same the children have been using: the law.

"It's amazing how much law a 15-year-old knows," says Margaret E. Dunn, program director of the Classroom Disciplinary Management and Strategy Program at Southwest Texas State University.

She tells the story of the mathematics teacher who confiscated three joints from a boy in his class, and put the marijuana in his desk drawer.

"By afternoon the teacher has been charged with possession of marijuana," says Dunn. The youngster knew the law. The teacher did not.

Other teachers report being "scared to death" to invoke punishment. Their fear is not necessarily physical; they are afraid of being dragged into court by litigious parents.

Many schools have no well-stated and well-known procedures for dealing with discipline problems. If policies exist, they are closely held secrets. Teachers do not know how to use them.

Texas Governor Mark White has become impatient with schools with no discipline policies, and has recommended state-wide rules for every school district in the state.

"I'm tired of waiting on one school district or another to take action," he says. The governor also is proposing that no person be certified to teach before completing a course in how to maintain discipline in the classroom.

"Discipline in the schools" has elbowed its way to the top of safe political issues. Hardly a week goes by without a politician saying, "When I was a boy and got a whipping at school, I got another one when I got home."

Thomas Doyal, a school law specialist in Texas, provides a modern paraphrase, "When I get a whipping at school, my daddy sues the teacher, the principal and the Board of Education."

Some blame parents for the breakdown in discipline; some blame the democratization of education, and many blame the courts. The courts' decisions, says Doyal, have had the greatest effect in confusing school people.

"Somehow, teachers believe the law is against them and they become immobile," he says.

It all began in 1969 when the U.S. Supreme Court knocked down the doctrine of in loco parentis.

Before 1969, children while in school were the responsibility of school authorities. Children were subject to any treatment at the school that the parents could administer at home.

In Tinker vs. Des Moines School District, the high court ruled that students wearing black armbands to school protesting the war in Vietnam were not subject to expulsion by school officials. The ruling was that students were not only students, but citizens. There went in loco parentis.

The rights of students were reinforced by the U.S. Supreme Court in 1975 when, in Goss vs. Lopez, the court ruled that the right to education was a constitutionally-protected property right, and a student could not be deprived of that right. A student could not be expelled for more than 10 days without due process of law.

States and school districts rushed to help teachers. An example: Texas has a law guaranteeing teachers immunity from law suits except for excessive use of force in administering punishment.

Because students can no longer be expelled from school without due process, school districts have devised such alternatives as "in-house suspension," which means placing "problem" children in special schools within the district.

While many, like Governor White, believe written policies and rules are the answers, Doyal points out that great care must be taken to protect both students and teachers.

"If the rules are laundry lists of offenses and their punishments," says Doyal, "we run the risk of leaving something out. We can't underestimate the ability of students to devise a new offense."

Doyal believes a general policy is more effective, backed up with continuing in-service training for teachers in the specifics of their legal rights in maintaining discipline.

Politics to dominate USM forum

Politics, from the Mississippi scene to the international arena, will dominate this fall's University of Southern Mississippi Honors College Fall Forum schedule.

The Honors Forum features state, national and international speakers, outstanding films, panels and other enrichment programs in the humanities, science and social sciences.

This fall's schedule includes: Oct. 2, Lester Thurow, "A Winning Economic Policy;" Oct. 9, Lewis Grizzard, "Lewis Grizzard Looks at Politics and World Affairs;" Oct. 16, Marva Collins, "Relighting the Candles of Excellence in Education;" Oct. 23, Haley Barbour and David Bowen, "Democratic and Republican Views of the 1984 Election;" Oct. 30, Ray Mabus, "Mississippi Politics and Political Issues in the 1980's;" Nov. 6, Michael Manley, "The U.S. Latin America and the Caribbean: A Third World View;" and Nov. 13, Issachar Katzir, "Israel, the U.S. and the Middle East."

All forum events are free of charge and are open to the general public at 7 p.m. on Tuesday evenings in Bennett Auditorium.

"That's what this is all about," said Dr. Richard Bowers, forum director. "The forum is for the students and its for the community."

Bay student works in forestry coop education program

Laura L. Garrison of Bay St. Louis is participating in the Cooperative Education Program at Mississippi State University.

As a major in the area of Forestry she is working toward a BS degree and at the same time is working as a Co-op Student on alternating semesters in Jackson with U.S. Forest Service.

The Cooperative Education Program is a five-year educational program which allows a student in various fields of accountancy, agriculture and home economics, arts and sciences, business and industry, education, engineering, and forestry to affiliate with a business, industrial, or governmental firm while enrolled at Mississippi State University.

By combining practical experience with theoretical training, this program provides the student with a superior education. Once all the degree requirements are complete, Garrison will begin full-time work with the cooperating firm or will join another firm which demands this particular training.

USM names new Gulf Park campus librarian

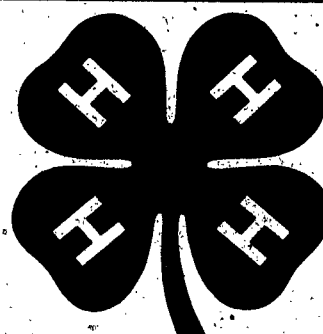

Elaine Wiltse Mount of Mandeville, La., has been named library director at the University of Southern Mississippi-Gulf Park.

Mount received her BA and MLS degrees from Louisiana State University and her MBA degree from Loyola University in New Orleans.

Prior to joining the Gulf Park staff, she served as library director at St. Mary's Dominican College in New Orleans.

She has received many academic honors and is a member of the American and Louisiana Library Associations and the Association of College and Research Libraries.

USM-Gulf Park offers coast residents junior, senior and graduate courses for completion of degrees. Some 1,200 students registered for fall courses at the Jackson County, Keesler and Long Beach campuses.

4-H YOUTH AGENT

Two senior 4-Hers, William Moran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Moran and Grandy Ladner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Ladner, will be participating in the livestock events at the Mississippi State Fair this weekend. Moran will be showing a bull and two heifers at the fair. Ladner will be showing one bull and one heifer. Good luck to Grandy Ladner and William Moran!

The Hancock County Fair will be held Nov. 5-11. Participating 4-Hers, should start getting exhibits ready for the fair now.

Ribbons and cash prizes will be awarded. Those interested in entering an exhibit may contact the Extension Service 467-5456.

Now is the time to purchase feeder pigs that will be shown at the District Livestock Show in Hattiesburg, and the State 4-H Round-up in Jackson.

4-Hers who plan to show in the county Fair should start grooming and working with their animals now.

For further information about the State or County fair, contact the Extension Service 467-5456.

What to do when horseplay turns to violence

What to do when horseplay turns to violence

"Who started the trouble?"
"He hit me first!"
"No! He hit me first!"
"Well, he knocked me in the back!"
"No I didn't! It was an accident!"
The more a parent tries to play the role of judge in a fight, the more confusing the situation becomes, reminds

Growing Up, a child development newsletter about school-age children. There are more worthwhile and important things parents can do when a child is engaged in a vigorous wrestling match with a playmate or sibling. First, realize that vigorous physical activity is normal. As bodies grow and develop, muscles become stronger. Children love to experience strength and to experiment to find out what their bodies can do. What appears to an adult to be fighting may be a form of social interaction to the child—a way of making friends.

But be observant. If a child appears to initiate real fighting behavior often, he may need help to learn other appropriate ways to handle situations.

Limits sometimes need to be set on physical rough-housing since children may not be aware of their own strength and the damage they may cause either to themselves or to others.

There are several effective ways a parent can deal with fighting behavior when it needs to be controlled.

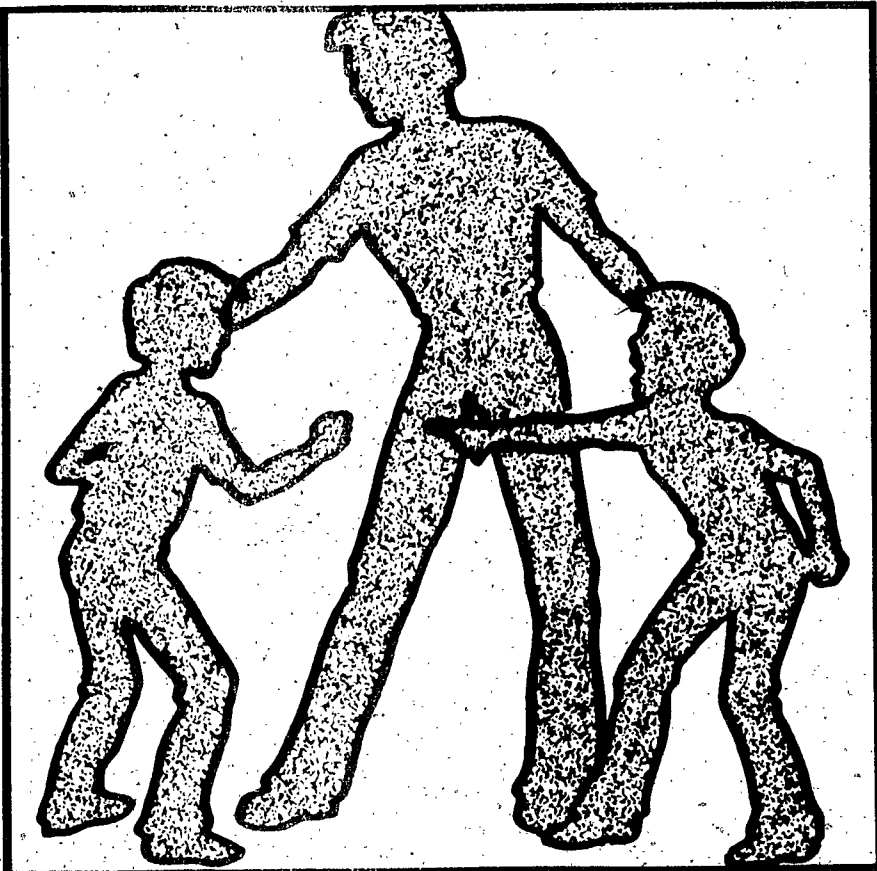

—Early intervention. Before a situation gets out of hand, a mild correction is usually enough.

—Group punishment. When a group of children is involved in fighting, it is usually best to have all of them suffer the same consequences. To single out the ring leader often makes that person a 'hero.' The most effective form of group punishment for over-aggressive behavior is usually loss of a privilege—no television or no treat.

—Organized activity. Supervised activities such as sporting events help channel activities while promoting cooperation, healthy competition and belonging to a group.

Children are bundles of boundless energy. Adults will do well to channel that energy in positive channels—running, bike riding—before fighting becomes an issue.

Growing Up follows a child's development through the school years. For more information, write to Growing Up, P.O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Ind. 47902. Include child's school grade when writing.

Gulf Pines Council names field director, volunteers

Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council announces the appointment of Mary Shelton to serve as field director for the Girl Scouts in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland area.

In conjunction with her appointment, a new staff of volunteers will be working with leaders and other volunteers in the area.

Heading up the volunteer staff will be service team director Mrs. Barbara Jones.

Joining Mrs. Jones on the service team are Mrs. Crystal Burrows, troop organizer; Mrs. Becky Markel, public relations; Mrs. Philamens Carr, hut manager; Mrs. Jackie Porcello, secretary; Mrs. Michelle Bezou, treasurer; Mrs. Dawn York, Brownie consultant; and Mrs. Anita Montgomery, junior consultant.

Mrs. Shelton and the volunteer service team will be meeting with troop leaders and all interested volunteers the second Tuesday of every month, at 6:15 p.m. at the Girl Scout Hut in Shoreline Park.

The agenda will include information about upcoming Girl Scouting events: The Bay-Waveland Girl Scout Campout at Camp Iti Kana in October; Junior Girl Scout camping weekends; the state-wide Girl Scouting event, the Mississippi Mingle; Wider Opportunity Showcase, and local training courses.

Adults interested in becoming a Girl Scout volunteer may call Mrs. Jones, 255-3711.

The Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council, a United Way agency, serves a 15 county area of South Mississippi. Offices are located in Hattiesburg and on the campus of William Carey College on the Coast in Gulfport. The council also offers year-round camping facilities at its 339 acre camp, Camp Iti Kana.

Parents are encouraged to learn more about Girl Scouting by calling Mrs. Burrows, 533-7886; Mrs. Shelton in Hattiesburg, 582-0284; or the Gulf Pines Learning Center in Gulfport, 856-4047.

Truman Scholarships available at USM

Applications are being taken at the University of Southern Mississippi for 105 national 1985 Harry S. Truman Scholarships worth $20,000 over a four-year period.

USM sophomores and junior college sophomores planning to attend USM next year are eligible to apply for the scholarships, which are designed to provide educational advantages for outstanding students with potential leadership abilities, and to prepare them for careers in government service.

The scholarship award covers eligible expenses up to $5,000 per year for the junior and senior years, and two years of graduate study.

Eligible students must be full-time sophomores working toward a bachelor's degree, maintain a "B" average, stand in the upper fourth of the class, and be a U.S. citizen or U.S. national heading for a career in government.

Interested students must submit a letter of application, a statement of career plans, a list of past public service or other leadership positions, a current transcript, and a 600-word essay discussing a public policy issue of their choice to Dr. Wallace G. Kay, Truman Scholarship faculty representative, at McMillin Hall Room 112-A, by Nov. 1, 1984.

HERE'S WHAT WE DO
1. Install one set quality brake shoes or front disc brake pads
2. Resurface drums or true rotors
3. Rebuild wheel cylinders if possible - replace if necessary at additional parts cost per wheel cylinder (disc brakes)
4. Inspect calipers (disc brakes)
5. Replace brake pads and resurface brake discs (non-drive wheels)
Additional parts or services, which may be needed, are of value cost extra. U.S. and foreign cars. Light trucks higher. Some shops. Make 140 more.
